Challenge
To find a PDF tool that not only opens and edits PDF documents but also converts image and Microsoft Office documents and compares them to track changes.

Solution
The new ABBYY FineReader 14 converts and processes PDFs and scans, transforming all documents into editable and searchable formats.

The Melbourne-based financial accounting firm — Krigsman Partners has uncovered the possibilities of document comparison technology in the ABBYY FineReader® 14. Although it is only one of a whole suite of time saving tools found in the software, it has revolutionised the way Krigsman Partners process many of their documents.

The long search for an all-in-one document processing solution

As a firm providing a broad range of legal and advisory consulting services, Krigsman Partners works with a wide variety of documents including trust deeds, contracts and other legal documentations.

The first challenge for the firm was to find a comprehensive tool to accurately convert PDFs and other scanned images into editable and searchable formats for editing and storing. After trying several products, they found all of them slow at processing large complex documents and some difficult to use because of their unintuitive interfaces and cumbersome features.

Shortly after trialing the ABBYY FineReader 14 Corporate, Krigsman Partners purchased a volume license for each of its members, setting up FineReader as the default PDF tool within the organization.

The crowning feature of the newly acquired software became ABBYY FineReader's unique Document Comparison tool. It gives the ability to compare documents of various formats such as an image only PDF against a Microsoft Word document in the same window thus performing in seconds' review processes that would have taken hours.

A Comprehensive product

By purchasing ABBYY FineReader, Krigsman acquired not only a comprehensive PDF tool able to merge, edit and convert PDF documents, but also a powerful OCR product that can pre-process scanned images as well as photos of documents taken with a mobile phone. The dedicated OCR interface ensures that document format conversion is performed as smoothly as possible. Importantly this process could be automated with the 'Hot Folder' feature that automatically processed desired documents within an assigned location.

"ABBYY FineReader provides us with the flexibility we need for the large volume of legal and tax documentation our office receives. We can export documents quickly to any format and search, edit and email with minimal fuss. It is an essential business product for our business"

Multiple files processed in split second

With FineReader, Krigsman Partners were able to achieve a significant reduction of task completion times during document conversion and comparison. Tasks that used to take an employee a full day can now be accomplished in seconds. A good example is a recent task to compare two versions of a trust deed - one from the 80s and one from 2000. The documents are over 40 pages in length. Before the firm deployed FineReader 14, someone would have to compare the documents side by side, find all the differences and changes made to either document, a process that could take a full day. With ABBYY FineReader, the firm was able to complete the task in seconds. Krigsman Partners currently saves up to 1000$ in wages each time it uses the solution for similar tasks.
